NORTHUMBERLAND PLAYERS’ PRODUCTIONS:

Offering up live outdoor theatre, food and drinks, the players’ pop-up theatre project is continuing.

With three productions in the works, these shows will continue into September.

“Love Letters” by A.R. Gurney and directed by Valerie Russell is up next, starting Aug. 13. This production will run until Aug. 22. The show is happening at the Lioness and Lions Pavilion.

A “Laundry and Bourbon” production is up afterwards, starting Aug. 27, and then “Lone Star” launches Sept. 17.

COVID-19 protocols will be in place, including physical distancing and capacity limits, say organizers.

A grant via the Ontario Trillium Foundation helped Northumberland Players to purchase the lighting equipment needed to facilitate the outdoor performances.

ABOUT THE SUMMER POP-UP PROGRAM:

Approved by council earlier this year, the goal of this program is to support local restaurants, pubs, charitable organizations and service clubs.
